

MEDIA RELEASE

December 3, 2009

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ECONOMICAL UTILITY TRENCHER

Contractors with a need for efficient utility trenching will welcome the release of the Augertorque Trencher and Takeuchi TB 016 package.

Semco says the combination is an ideal solution for contract plumbers, drainers, gasfitters and electricians, or for communications cabling to home sites and other infrastructure.

The TB016 mini excavator is designed to access sites as narrow as 1000 mm, while the Augertorque trenching attachment has the capability to produce a trench 600mm deep and 100mm wide.

According to Semco, the optimally matched combination represents a breakthrough in compact trenching and will appeal to contractors and rental companies that already have Takeuchi TB 016 trenchers in their fleet.

The company says little time is needed to learn to operate the attachment, which removes the tedium of handwork when digging irrigation, communication, and utility access trenches. They say bad backs, skinned knuckles or grazed shins caused by shovels and mattocks are a thing of the past. Digging under fences and structures can be easily achieved too, all from the comfort of a padded seat and with effortless fingertip controls.

Operation is said to be very quiet and the Combo-chain supplied can handle tough ground conditions with ease. The swing boom on the TB016 allows the operator to manipulate the trencher into otherwise inaccessible positions to virtually eliminate handwork. These machines can even be used to run hand held hydraulic tools such as jackhammers, cut-off saws and submersible pumps.

Semco says substantial labour costs can be saved by a typical contractor and the equipment can be financed through Semco Financial from a few hundred dollars a week to approved purchasers by calling 1300 742 044 for an obligation free finance quote.

[END]

For further information:

Satch Santilli - Sales Director SEMCO Pty Ltd

Tel: 02 9833 6000/ 0419 468 580 /Email: ssantilli@semcogroup.com.au/web: www.semcogroup.com.au

Michael Parkinson

Tel: 02 9572 7678 /M: 0419 264 465 / E: ausvex@bigpond.com

Ref.SM 91117

Photo attached:

Takeuchi TB016 Excavator with the Augertorque Trencher attachment